TO MR. ALLEN:

We, the Seniors of 1941, shall ever cherish our association with Mr. Allen, for his true Americanism manifested in words and deeds has inspired us to utilize our educational opportunities that we might readily assume the loyal citizenship vital to our country.

To an old friend and swell girl, lots of luck and success
in the future.
James Anderson

Dear Helen
I really think you are one of the best girls I know, and I have had more fun out of you than any-girl, I hate you

DEDICATION TO AMERICA

A pillar rising out of the sea
A beacon to the entire world
A sanctuary where all can be Protected by a flag unfurled
By a hand from on high
Ruled by God who is always nigh.

A ship built of wrought iron and oak
And braced by bands of steel
With a thousand hands on every spoke
While a thousand minds help guide the wheel
That decides the goal
Of the ship that sails from pole to pole.

A pot brimmed full of races and creeds
And heated over brotherhood's fire,
Holding an answer to every man's need
And fulfillment of all that his heart desires.

All these are your symbols, Our Home Land.
America, you need not fail,
For Freedom stands by man's right hand
And before his eye shines the Holy Grail,
Liberty's ever shining star,
The enemy of greed's dark war.

We're told for the wicked there is no rest,
That they must go on in sin,
But You say the Bad can be made as good as the best,
So You open Your door and let them in,
For though they have failed quite often before
You inspire them anew when they reach your shore.

—Nellie Loftice.

dearest Helen - you really a swell girl - always stay that way.
Love

Dear Hebe,

I'll always remember you and the swell times we've had together. I'll always remember Conference, church hay rides, and high school dances. You are cute and swell sister. I only hope that you and Jimmy move the first one after me and that our brother and sisterships shall never break up.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS

"Serving cheerfully and willingly."

The assistants of this school are students of high standing chosen by faculty members as library assistants, office assistants, locker guards, gym assistants, and for any other purpose in helping the school or teachers. These students must be above reproach in every instance and have a good scholastic standing. It is an honor to be a student assistant at Adamson High School. Owing to the large number, no attempt to list the names has been made.

Football Calendar

September 18. Adamson 0—Paris 6

A bullet pass hurled through a clustered Adamson defense found its mark, climaxing a 43-yard drive and giving the Paris Wildcats a 6 to 0 victory over the Leopards. Although the boys in blue and white put up a game battle, the Wildcat's score held good. The Leopards, led by Torbett Croft and Nick Lanza, put up a stubborn defense.

September 27. Adamson 15—Marshall 19

The Leopards journeyed to Marshall for their second game of the season and suffered a 19-15 defeat at the hands of the Mavericks. The Blue Brigade got off to a 13 point lead but could not hold it. The Mavs rallied in the final half to overcome the Adamson eleven.

October 4. Adamson 0—Lufkin 7

Striking through the air late in the first quarter, the Lufkin Panthers nipped the Leopards 7 to 0. The brightest spot in the Leopard's play was their stellar defensive work. The blue forwards piled up Lufkin's running attack time and again with some vicious tackling.

October 11. Adamson 6—Tech 2

The Leopards hit their stride!!! Displaying clever ball handling, Adamson's speedy eleven stopped the Tech Wolves' winning streak by the score of 6 to 2. Bandy-legged little Torbett Croft scored the winning touchdown for the Leopards in the last quarter of the grid thriller. Tech relied mostly on its aerial attack. Nick Lanza and Croft were the most consistent ground gainers for Adamson.

October 25. Adamson 0—Woodrow 6

Entering the Woodrow Wilson game as underdogs the Leopards kept the Wildcats "going" by staying deep in their opponent's territory during the entire first half. During the last quarter, Woodrow took advantage of a fumble deep in the Leopard's territory, and when the whistle blew the score was 6 to 0 in favor of the Wildcats.

Football Calendar

November 2. Adamson 6—Forest 12

The Leopards turned in a great game against the Junior College sized Forest Lions. The boys fought all the way and practically had the game on "ice" until the last second of play when Forest drove over their winning tally, making the score 12-6.

November 8. Adamson 14—Sherman 19

The hard-fighting Leopards who never let up in rain or fog threatened the Sherman Bearcat's undefeated record for the season losing by a 19 to 14 score. The Dallas boys played a stubborn defensive game and made seven first downs to the Bearcat's eight. All scoring was done during the first half. This was due, possibly, to the heavy showers, which continued throughout the third and fourth quarters.

November 16. Adamson 7—Sunset 27

The "rivals from across the river," namely, Sunset and Adamson, met on the field of battle. Ned Welch, Bison backfielder, started the point-making with a 54-yard run through the entire Adamson team. This was only the beginning! One thrill followed another, and the final score was 27 to 7.

November 22. Adamson 31—North Dallas 6

Playing the crippled North Dallas Bulldogs was a walk away for the Leopards. The true blue boys ended their gridiron season in a blaze of glory. Adamson took the ball on the opening kick-off and with a series of end runs and line smashes marched for a touchdown without losing the ball. Five touchdowns were made by the Leopards, but only one point after touchdown was made. The Bulldogs were not able to gain except by long passes which were completed in the second quarter; one of which resulted in the North Dallas' only touchdown.

Jokes

"Now, sir," inquired the bullying lawyer," "what is your business?"

"I'm in vaudeville, sir," was the prompt reply.

"Isn't that rather a low calling?" sneered the lawyer.

"Perhaps it is, sir," was the cool answer, "but you see it is so much more honest and decent and respectable than my father's that I am rather proud of it."

"What did your father do?"

"He was a lawyer, sir."

She was a dear old lady who never let an opportunity pass to get some free medical advice, or to ask the doctor some questions which had nothing to do with the case in hand. On this occasion the doctor had called to treat her husband for some minor ailment.

"Doctor," she said, "can you tell me why some people are born dumb?"

"Why—ahem—certainly," replied the medical man. "It is due either to congenital inhibition of the faculty of articulation, or to some anatomical deficiency in the organs of vocalization."

"There, now," she remarked triumphantly, glancing at her husband, "see what it is to have an education? I've asked Henry more than 100 times why it was and all he could say was, ''Cause they are.' "

The height of illegibility—a doctor's prescription written with a post office pen in the rumble seat of a second-hand car.

Teacher: "Jane, who was Anne Boleyn?"

Jane: "A flatiron, sir."

Teacher: "What do you mean?"

Jane: "Well, our history book says that 'Henry having disposed of Catherine, pressed his suit with Anne Boleyn.' "

"Heah, Rastus, is that quarter I borrowed from you two years ago."

"Y'all might just as well keep yo' money. It ain't wuth two bits for me to change mah opinion o' you."

"Next to a beautiful girl, what do you think is the most interesting thing in the world?"

"When I'm next to a beautiful girl, I'm not worrying about statistics."

"B-e-d spells bed," said the teacher to her backward pupil. "Now do you understand, Tommy?"

"Yes," said Tommy glibly.

"Well, c-a-t spells cat, d-o-g spells dog, and b-e-d spells—what did I tell you b-e-d spells?"

"I've forgotten, teacher," whispered Tommy, contritely.

"Well, once more b-e-d spells what you sleep in. Now what is it?"'

"My shirt!"

Given: I love you.
To prove: That you love me.
Proof:

1. I love you.
2. Therefore, I am a lover.
3. All the world loves a lover.
4. You are all the world to me.
5. Therefore, you love me.

Teacher: "What is the half of eight, Frank?"

Frank: "Which way, teacher?"

Teacher: "What do you mean?"

Frank: "On top or sidewise?"

Teacher: "What difference does it make?"

Frank: "Well, the top half of eight is zero, but the half of eight sideways is three."

"Why does a clock run?"
"You would too if you had ticks!"

The subject before the class was, "The Cow." The teacher asked the class about the uses to which the parts of the dead animal were put, when it was brought out that the flesh was eaten, and from the hide leather for boots and shoes was made.

"And what do we make of the horns?" the teacher queried.

Up shot the hand of a small boy.

"Well, what is it, my boy?"

"Hornaments, sir."

The train was pulling out and the old gentleman was just settling down comfortably. Suddenly the door burst open, and a young man tumbled into the coach and seated himself, panting and puffing, opposite. The latter looked on with obvious disapproval.

"You must be very unfit, young man," he said, after a while. "Why, when I was young I never panted like that after a run."

"Perhaps not," said the other, "but I missed this train at the last station."

A traveling salesman, having missed a bus, found himself with two hours to spend in Brushville. He approached a native.

"Got a picture show here?"

"No."

"A poolroom, or library?"

"No."

"Well, how on earth do you amuse yourselves?"

"We go down to the grocery store in the evenings and watch the bacon slicer work."

A minister, traveling on one of those way-trains that stops at every station on a side line, was reading his Bible.

"Find anything about this railroad in that book?" asked the conductor, as he reached for the minister's ticket.

"Yes," replied the preacher, "In the very first chapter it says that the Lord made every creeping thing."

The curate was passing down the village street when he encountered two boys fighting. He promptly seized the tallest one by the collar and said to him, "What are you two fighting about?"

"We were fighting about you," the boy replied. "Sammy Jones said you hadn't the brains of a hen, and I said you had."

The following notice was inserted in a rural weekly:

"Anyone found near my chicken house at night will be found there next morning."

Diogenes met a World War veteran.

"What were you in the war?" he asked.

"A private," the old soldier answered.

And Diogenes blew out his lamp and went home.

Visiting lecturer, indignantly, telephoning: "Are you the man who interviewed me this morning?"

Reporter, answering from the newspaper office: "Yes. What's the matter?"

"You've got me down in the evening paper as making a perfectly insane statement."

"I printed just what you told me."

"You report me as speaking of the days when great men were riding Greek goats."

"Yes. Isn't that what you said?"

"Certainly not, you blunderer; I said 'writing Greek odes!' "

A young man went to his doctor complaining of insomnia. The doctor examined him, found nothing radically wrong, and advised the man to start counting when he went to bed and go on until he fell asleep.

The following day he was back again at the doctor's house.

"Well," asked the medico, "and did you follow my advice?"

"I did," replied the patient. "I continually counted up to 45,875."

"And then you fell asleep?"

"Oh, no, doctor! Then it was time to get up."

College education for women is futile. If they're pretty, it's unnecessary; if they are not, it's inadequate.

Historians tell us that women used cosmetics in the Middle Ages. For that matter, women in the middle ages still use them.

The teacher was explaining the meaning of the word "Unit." Picking up various objects, she asked what they were, and each time received the answer, "a unit." Finally she took an orange from her box.

"And what is this?" she asked.

"A unit," was the answer.

Taking her knife, the teacher peeled the orange, and holding the peeling in her hand, inquired:

"What is this?"

The class looked confused, but after a time a hand went up.

"What is it, James?" asked the teacher.

"The skin of a unit," asserted James.

In her school essay on "Parents," a little girl wrote: "We get our parents when they are so old that it is impossible to change their habits."

For about an hour a man from Denver had been boasting to an Englishman about the magnificence of the Rocky Mountains.

"You seem very proud of them," observed the Englishman.

"You bet I am," replied the man from Denver. "And I ought to be, since my ancestors built them."

The other thought this over for a few moments, and then asked, "Did you ever hear of the Dead Sea?"

"Yes, indeed," replied the man from Denver. "I know all about the Dead Sea."

"Well, did you know that my great grandfather killed the thing?"

One Sunday morning the pastor of a Negro congregation noticed that an old face had reappeared among his flock, and after the sermon made it a point to welcome the supposedly repentant backslider.

"This is the first time I have seen you at church for a long time," he said. "I'm sho'ly glad to see you here."

"Ah done had to come," explained Rastus. "Ah needs strengthenin'. I'se got a job white-washin' a chicken coop an' buildin' a fence roun' a watermelon patch."

The distinguished but absent-minded lecturer was traveling by train but when asked for his ticket was unable to find it.

"Never mind, sir," said the conductor, who knew him well, "I know you bought one, so it will be all right."

"Thanks very much," said the lecturer, "but hang it all, man, I've got to find it to know where I'm going."

He was going through Main Street and stopped at the traffic officer's signal. Another car tried to pass and bumped him. The traffic officer called him down.

"My goodness," said the tourist, "do you mean to tell me that I was to blame?"

"You certainly were," said the cop.

"Why?"

"Because the other man is a City Trustee, his father is Mayor, his brother is Chief of Police and I go with his sister!"

Dearest Helen,

Here is one of the last looking blonds I know (not bragging either). Im very sorry you think Im conceited because I try so very hard not to be, but you must be right for you aren't the only one who seems to think so.

Dash, Helen we must carry on correspondance next year in College because you see we will both be off a pretty good distance from Home.

Really Helen, I wish I could take act friendly and nice with all the people and win friends easily.

Love always,
Harry Lee

Dear Helen

I think you are one of the finest girls I know & I enjoy my self to have such good times together, don't we
